Relief and Support Through Covid-19

The Covid-19 pandemic has caused significant disruption for schools throughout the state. The state should expend every effort to make sure that school funding is stable and policies are flexible as school districts adjust to the pandemic's challenges.

- Hold school districts harmless on funding fluctuations during the pandemic. Use student enrollment data from FY20 or FY21, whichever is larger, when calculating the following revenue streams.
  - General education
  - Special education
  - Free or reduced-priced lunch
- Provide more flexibility for a qualified candidate to receive a teaching license so school districts can maintain a quality teaching staff.
- Delay the World’s Best Work Force (WBWF) assessment requirements for the 2020-21 school year. The federal government has not indicated its intent with the ESSA requirements for testing.

Funding

- Provide a 2% increase to the basic formula. Schools must have the resources to support student academic, social, and emotional learning.
- Increase state equalization aid for all education-related levies, particularly those related to operating referenda, debt service, and local option revenue. Local levies must be affordable so all voters across the state can support their local schools if needed.
- Extend the funding to freeze the growth of the special education cross subsidy and other formula calculations that were included in the 2019-20 state budget. The funding expires at the end of the 2020-21 school year.
- Extend the Safe School Aid as students’ mental health needs are at an all-time high. The funding will expire at the end of the 2020-21 school year.

Policy

- Stop any new unfunded mandates that will further strain school budgets.
The unfunded cost of providing mandated special education, known as the cross subsidy, is growing and unsustainable. Bold action is needed now to implement a funding source for reducing the cross subsidy so all schools can provide an education that meets the academic, social, and emotional needs of Minnesota students. Funding sources could include the following.

- Creation of a revenue stream from existing tax collections (online sales as an example) to be used exclusively for funding special education costs.
- Implementation of a new dedicated revenue stream, like a one-cent sales tax increase or sports betting, either statutorily or through the Minnesota Constitution to pay for special education costs.
- Provide school districts with the ability to levy at least half of their cross-subsidy amount through a highly equalized levy.
- Creation of an entirely new revenue stream (sports betting) with the resulting revenue dedicated to special education funding.

Schools for Equity in Education

All public school children must have equal access to a high quality education regardless of where they live in Minnesota.
